U.S. Sugar says it is renewing its commitment to Everglades restoration

The president of U.S. Sugar Corp., Florida's largest producer of sugar cane, has reiterated his company's commitment to continuing Everglades restoration and to bearing 100 percent of the cost of cleaning farm water which leaves the company's farm in the Everglades Agricultural Area.

J. Nelson Fairbanks said: "Last week the voters of Florida stood with us in defeating Amendment 4, which would have been disastrous for our farming communities and would have set back the cause of Everglades restoration many years. I considered that vote also a victory for the Everglades and the progress that is being made to restore the River of Grass. Specifically, it was a vote of confidence in the Everglades Forever Act—the landmark legislation passed by the Florida Legislature in 1994."

"Recently, some people have called for actions that would undermine this real progress that has been made for the Everglades. Unfortunately those voices have come from a few people in the environmental community and from a minority in our own industry. I believe this is a grave mistake, and I believe that it does not represent the majority of responsible people throughout Florida. These comments, if carried out, could put us back in litigation or in battles before the Florida Legislature which will only serve to further complicate and delay Everglades Restoration."

"Before the Everglades Act was approved, the Everglades cleanup had been mired in the courtroom. The new law marked the beginning of a new era of cooperation between responsible environmentalists, elected officials and farmers."

November 22-29 is Farm/City Week

Local farm leaders are preparing for Farm City Week 1996. Agriculture is one of Florida's largest industries, an industry not often understood by Florida's growing urban population.

Farm-City Week will promote a better understanding between farm and city residents. This year's observance extends from November 22-28.

Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau will be going to some of the local schools to show an agriculture video and talk to the fourth and fifth graders about agriculture to start off this week of activities.

This will be the 41st annual observance of Farm-City Week. More than 16,000 community members participate in the United States and Canada. A Presidential Proclamation and a joint Congressional Resolution have called for Farm-

City Week observances each year since the inception of event. Farm-City Week has won Federal Foundation's Distinguished Service Award and the Silver Anvil Award from the Public Relations Society of America.

Here in Western Palm Beach County, agricultural businesses include, sugar cane, vegetables, nurseries, sod, and rice.

Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau hopes that the events and activities of Farm-City Week will create a greater awareness in cities of the type and sizes of farms in our area. If farm residents can understand the concerns of agriculture, there will be a greater chance of the two working together to solve common problems such as environmental and governmental issues.

Wood chips and cane fields catch fire at Osceola Sugar

By Brenda Bunting

A woodchip pile at Osceola Power plant near Pahokee caught on fire Friday. Firefighters from Belle Glade, Pahokee, Canal Point and county fire rescue helped get the blaze under control.

Also helping extinguish the fire were workers from Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative and United States Sugar Corp.

Approximately 15 acres of sugar cane caught fire from the woodchip fire. The wood pieces are used to power Flou-Sun Inc.'s electric generating plant and sugar mill.

The wind, which was gusting up to 40-miles-per-hour on Friday, fueled the fire.

One of the plant managers, Henry Rionda, said no one was injured in the fire, but one worker was treated for mild smoke inhalation. The woodchip fire smoldered for several days after the blaze, but no other incidents were reported.

Lantana man dies near Hatton Highway

An accident two miles east of Hatton Highway took the life of a Lantana man last Thursday morning.

Steven Keith Vernon, 32, was driving a 1990 Ford flatbed truck westbound on S.R. 80 about 10:45 a.m. when the accident occurred. According to the Florida Highway Patrol, Vernon was in the outside lane and went onto the north shoulder. He apparently over corrected the truck to get back on the road and rotated counter-clockwise and overturned.

South Bay man dies when truck rolls into canal

A South Bay man died Nov. 13 when his truck he was driving went into a canal on U.S. 27, just north of the Broward County line.

Willie Stacy, 44, of South Bay was driving his 1994 Ford pickup about 11 p.m. on a remote road. According to the Florida Highway Patrol, Stacy stopped on the edge of the roadway and the embankment gave way.

The Ford truck went into the canal and ended on its left side. The truck was pulled from the canal but Stacy was not found in the truck. His body was found by a diver almost four hours later.

Pahokee Youth Development Center nears completion

The construction stage of the Pahokee Youth Development Center, one of the newer properties of Correctional Services Corporation, is nearing completion. This 350 bed male youthful offender facility will begin accepting residents-students in January of 1997.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony is in the planning stages and dignitaries from around the state, including a representative from the governor's office, are expected to participate.

Administrators and office personnel have been temporarily housed in several small locations in the downtown Pahokee area. With the addition of the educational staff and other personnel, the large building which previously housed the Pahokee Army Store, is now being utilized.

Besides the economic impact to Pahokee and to Glades businesses, the addition of hundreds of new jobs have been created. According to Michael Higgins, facility administrator, a high percentage of these new jobs have been filled by Glades residents.

A Community Advisory Board composed of various professionals has met to devise ways in which the community can become involved. This board has agreed to meet monthly to be the link between the Development Center and the community. Chairing this board during the crucial early stages is Reverend James H. Brewer. "Caring relationships build character," says Rev. Brewer. "I have had a sincere desire to see this facility come to completion."

Alice Thompson, community relations and volunteer services director, says, "various opportunities for members of the community, clubs and organizations are forthcoming. Mentoring programs, which provide the foundation for priceless relationships, will be a vital part of our program."

"It is the desire of the administrators of the Pahokee Center to regularly educate and inform the public about the facility," said Mrs. Thompson. In order to accomplish this, a speakers bureau has been established. To arrange a speaker for your church, club, school or organization, please call Mrs. Thompson at the Chamber of Commerce in Pahokee, 924-5579 or at the facility, 924-5922.

The Death of a Town

By Mike Lyons

Indianola, Texas doesn't get many visitors. That's because there's not much to see or do in Indianola. It's one of those bump-in-the-road kind of towns, a don't-blink-or-you'll-miss-it kind of place.

Indianola, Texas is one of those just another name on the map. What's left of Indianola is a memorial to the power of a hurricane. It's the kind of place you should visit if you've never experienced a hurricane.

Indianola used to be the most important town on the Texas Gulf coast. Back in the 1870s, Indianola was a thriving, bustling community of several thousand people.

It had a large and busy port as vessels from all over the world came to Indianola. Cargoes included ice cut from New England lakes and shipped, with as much insulation as possible, from Boston. At the time, no other ice was available.

One and two-story frame buildings lined both sides of Main and Water streets—the two primary roads in Indianola. The only brick building was the Calhoun County Courthouse that faced Matagorda Bay.

It was a beautiful town with a breath-taking view of the Gulf of Mexico. Life was good but disaster was just around the corner.

Mike Lyons

Indianola had been built on low and sandy soil very close to the bay. Yet, the residents of Indianola seemed oblivious to the apparent danger.

Each year, the town did experience some flooding because of high tides and strong winds, but the damage was always minor. These brief periods of high water only increased the community's feelings that their town would be safe from the weather.

Indianola's luck ran out on Wednesday, September 18, 1975. A severe hurricane developed in the Gulf of Mexico and headed directly for the town built on sand.

Three-fourths of Indianola was washed away. Only underground cisterns and Oleander bushes remained to show residents where their homes had once stood.

The death toll was high. Anywhere from two-hundred to seven-hundred people lost their lives.

Yet, the survivors didn't lose their optimism or hope for their community. Many rebuilt their homes starting their lives all over.

Indianola, however, was never the same. The ships still came to the port, but their visits were less frequent. Over the next few years more and more people started to move away. Indianola was dying.

On August 19, 1886, another hurricane struck Indianola. Wind, rain, water and fire spread through the town. The fires started when kerosene lamps were knocked over by the gusty winds.

Every structure in town suffered damage and most had to be demolished. Even the Calhoun County Courthouse, which had survived the earlier storm, was destroyed. The hurricane was so powerful that a locomotive was sent tumbling into Matagorda Bay.

The town that was built on sand was gone. This time, none of the survivors rebuilt.

If you go to Indianola, Texas these days you won't find very much. You might run across the old cemetery and when the tide is low, you might see the crumbling remains of the courthouse.

There's not much to see in Indianola except the power of a hurricane and the foolishness of building to close to the water.

Celebrating National Home Care Month

by Paula Swaford, RN

November has been designated National Home Care Month (as well as National Hospice and National Diabetes Month). In celebrating this designation, we honor the men and women in over 1,500 agencies in Florida alone who work in their respective communities, whether urban or rural. The care that they provide to patients allows them to recuperate and remain in their own homes while they do so. Patients and their families are learning to appreciate the role filled by registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, home health aides, homemakers, therapists, social workers and other ancillary healthcare personnel. These folks are many times underrated, unappreciated and over-loaded with the day to day responsibilities they carry for the welfare of their patients.

This is a portion of a rather poignant poem written by a registered nurse who works for a home health agency in Georgia and I think it really touches on the "heart" of a home health care worker:

"They Go Alone"
"We go alone into the unknown of a stranger's house to care for the sick. We go to the rich and poor, young and old, in mansions and hovels, loved and despised. They are in pain and afraid. They are unsure of these strangers who knock on their doors, who come to tend their broken, old bodies, who accept them as they are in their glory or in their squalor.

"Home" is a dilapidated trailer and you can smell the stench as you leave your car. Inside lies an emaciated, filthy old body on a wet mattress. She is cold and hungry. You comfort her, bathe and feed her and you do everything you can for her in your allotted time. Beautiful crystal blue eyes look straight into yours and she whispers, "I love you". These are the eyes of our Lord. "Whatever ye shall do unto the least of these ye do unto me." You must leave. Others wait.

She has taken care of her own family, of her neighbors and their families, of all who have come to her need. Now that she is in need where are they? They come on check day to get her money. They come when she dies to divide what's left....

She has baked her special cake just for "her nurse". You are in a hurry, but you must stop and enjoy this time. It may not come again....

She shows you the quilts she has quilted. Her home is warm and cheery, though very poor. You wonder who really has the better life... You see their grandchildren's and great-grandchildren's pictures. You see pictures from long ago and see the resemblance of one generation to another. All in all, we get back much more than we can ever give. We learn and love and receive deeply from life. The life of a home health nurse....

Used by permission: Marie McCollum

As we honor the home health care staffs all over the nation this month, if you know someone involved in this line of work (and many times, labor in love) give them an extra smile and a big "thanks". So often, they go "above and beyond" what is expected of them and are never rewarded for their thoughtfulness and generosity. Until next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

"Yes, I wanted to say something about the Pahokee Blue Devils Junior Varsity Football team, about the roster. Well, I'm number 74

Personal success planning

In business nowadays, words like Total Quality Management (TQM), and Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) have been going in and out of vogue for the past several years. Businesses have tried to prosper by using "quality circles," Deming's principles, or "ISO 9000."

Management consultants and gurus have been touting these principles as ways to enhance workplace satisfaction, productivity, and bottom line dollars for companies. For those of you who don't have an MBA and have no desire to get one, I will give you all a Readers Digest summation:

- In order for a business to succeed, several factors must be clearly articulated:
1. What are you trying to do (make or sell)?
2. How will you know when you have done this (what are your criteria for a job well done or the successful provision of a service)?
3. At what level are you performing now (be specific based on criteria)?
4. What level of improvement or advancement are you targeting to achieve (be specific about the amount or definition of improvement)?
5. What are your current barriers to reaching your desired level of improvement?
6. Pick only one or two barriers to target for change. (so you don't have too many goals, or overwhelming goals).
7. Identify what you need to do to overcome these specific barriers.
8. Implement measures that will (hopefully) bring about the desired changes.
9. Measure or track the changes that occur after implementation. Has there been improvement, regression, or no change?
10. If there has been improvement, then continue using the new strategies, as long as they produce the desired results.
11. If there is no improvement, then scrap those strategies, and try to devise new strategies based on rational analysis and appraisal of the situation.

12. Go back to step 1 and keep improving!

That's what successful businesses do, or at least what they are supposed to do to stay successful. In case you haven't figured it out by now by the title of this article, these exact same strategies can help you achieve personal goals as well.

Just insert your personal goals in step one, and move forward for a happier life.

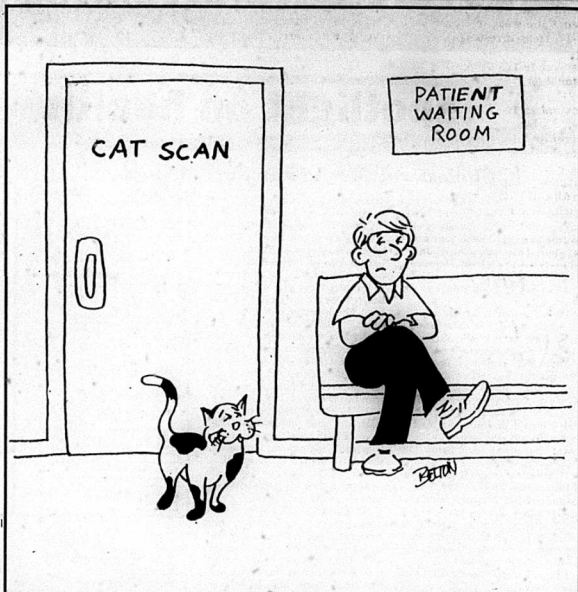

Although this approach is systematic, it is not always easy. Sometimes goals are specific like "weight loss," or "quitting smoking."

Other goals like "stress reduction" or "job satisfaction" may be harder to personally define. Then it can be tricky to come up with the specific change steps required to achieve personal success.

Motivation can be difficult too, especially if you are starting off discouraged and unhappy. You must devise change steps that you will actually follow through with. Just as businesses often utilize internal or external consultants, so too can individuals benefit from professional assistance to target, and implement personal change. TV guru like Anthony Robbins may have uplifting messages and good general advice, but most people don't gain lasting benefit from these kinds of programs and tapes. That's because they don't lay out the details of a personal success plan that applies to your specific goals, and takes into account your unique attributes and liabilities. Your strengths are especially important to recognize and utilize.

Famed consultant Peter Drucker has been quoted as saying "most people spend too much time trying to change their weak points (which are difficult to change), and not enough time utilizing their already present strengths."

Special Needs' children need special parents

By Allison Metcalf, Executive Director, Children's Home Society South Coastal Division West Palm Beach

Four-year-old Katie got off to a rough start in life. Her mother had no prenatal care, and Katie was severely neglected until she was placed into foster care when she was just three months old. At that time, the pediatrician who examined her had little hope that Katie would ever walk, talk or even be able to see. She didn't cry or even look at people.

After being adopted by her foster parents along with her brothers, Mikey and Simon, Katie is now a happy, talkative girl who enjoys gymnastics, singing and dancing. In her parents' words, "Katie is amazing!"

It takes special parents to provide love, nurturing and a permanent home to children with special needs. Children's Home Society of Florida, South Coastal Division, is Palm Beach County's oldest and largest private adoption agency. Children's Home Society helps adoptive parents experience the joy of sharing their lives with these special children.

Today there are many children with special needs awaiting adoption in Palm Beach County's foster care homes. As November is National Adoption Awareness Month, this is an appropriate time to consider becoming an adoptive parent and giving these children the stability of a permanent home.

"As an adopted child, I feel strongly that all children deserve the love and guidance that only a nurturing mother and father can provide," said Dave Thomas, founder of Wendy's International, Inc. spokesman for Children's Home Society of Florida since 1982. "With adoption comes joy and challenges and always blessings."

Florida is experiencing a dramatic increase in the availability of children with special needs. Many of them have never lived with their natural parents. Some have physical problems or emotional handicaps. Others are simply older

More than one daily drink may increase breast cancer risk

By Cathy Seigerman
American Institute of Cancer Research

Limiting alcohol consumption to a moderate level (about 1 drink per day) is recommended to reduce a woman's risk for breast cancer, according to information presented at a recent symposium of the American Institute for Cancer Research. AICR Grantee Keith Singletary, Ph.D., associate professor in the Department of Food Science and Human Nutrition at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, said the increased breast cancer risk connected to drinking appears to be modest, and more research needs to be conducted to determine the influence of other factors on the alcohol-breast cancer relationship. "We need to know more about the timing of alcohol consumption, nutrition factors, body weight, effects on hormone production, and drinking patterns," he said.

Singletary noted that "High alcohol consumption -- three or more drinks per day -- is associated with a number of cancers of the head and neck, including the mouth, larynx and esophagus."

News reports in the past year have cited studies that found a glass of red wine per day can help reduce risk for heart disease, but these results have led to some confusion over other studies showing that any alcohol at all in a woman's diet may be linked to breast cancer development. Singletary noted that although there is considerable evidence from studies in many different countries to support a connection between alcohol intake and breast cancer risk, the effect appears to be modest.

There has been enough variability and inconsistency within them to make health experts ask for additional information before drawing concrete conclusions regarding exactly how much alcohol can increase risk of breast cancer.

More than 180,000 new breast cancer cases are expected to be diagnosed this year. Although genetic predisposition is a factor in breast cancer development, researchers say some of the risk for the disease can still be controlled to a large extent through maintaining healthy eating and lifestyle habits. Because surveys show that more than 50 percent of American women drink, the influence of alcohol on breast cancer has come under scrutiny.

Even though the link to breast cancer appears to be modest, Singletary said the health benefits gained by reducing alcohol intake to low or moderate levels (about 1 drink per day) are significant. "Drinking low to moderate levels of alcohol can reduce your risk of other atherosclerotic risk factors, reduce your risk for coronary heart disease, and can reduce some of the adverse psychosocial effects of heavy drinking," he noted.

He advised individuals to consider their own personal risk for breast cancer when deciding how much to drink. Women with higher breast cancer risk may want to minimize alcohol intake until more is known about its influence.

For lower cancer risk, the American Institute for Cancer Research advises consumers to drink in moderation, if at all, to eat plenty of vegetables, fruits and whole grains, and to get regular physical exercise.

For a free brochure about alcohol and cancer, send a stamped (52 cents postage) self-addressed envelope to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. AC, Washington, D.C. 20069.

The American Institute for Cancer Research is the only major cancer charity focusing exclusively on the link between diet, nutrition and cancer. The Institute provides a wide range of consumer education programs that have helped millions of Americans learn to make changes for lower cancer risk. AICR also supports innovative research in cancer prevention and treatment at universities, hospitals and research centers across the U.S. The Institute has provided more than $37 million in funding for research in diet, nutrition and cancer. Restoration

Much progress has been made in two short years, but much remains to be done.

"On behalf of the employees of U.S. Sugar Corporation, and I, we believe the overwhelming majority of sugar farmers in South Florida, want to renew our commitment to Everglades restoration.

We are paying our fair share of the costs now under Phase I and we pledge to pay our fair share of the costs in the future. We will not initiate litigation to overturn the Everglades Forever Act and hope others won't either. Instead, we intend to play a leadership role in making sure that everyone in South Florida continues to enjoy a clean, safe environment while preserving jobs."

Special needs

children who are more difficult to place or have brothers and sisters who need to be adopted together. Most of these children with special needs are able to catch up or surpass their peers as long as they are in loving, nurturing homes. Like all children in foster care homes, these special youngsters deserve a second chance in life.

Today more than 90 percent of adoptions through Children's Home Society of Florida are children with special needs. This agency has placed nearly 30,000 children in permanent adoptive homes since 1902. For childless couples, current parents, single men and women, and people with disabilities, Children's Home Society of Florida has provided the encouragement, the counseling and support needed to become successful adoptive parents. The agency's statewide network of trained professionals can answer the dozens of questions that all prospective parents have about the adoption process:

- What are the qualifications to become an adoptive parent?
- How can I adopt a child?
- What types of children need to be adopted?
- What is the difference between public and private agencies?
- How will an adoption change my life?
- Is adoption permanent?
- What are the financial considerations?
- Can I receive counseling or other services after the adoption?

Motivation is the primary qualification to becoming a good adoptive parent. Financial resources are secondary. Through individual discussions with the agency's staff, prospective parents can share their feelings about adoption and discover new insights about parenthood. There is no pressure during the application process - only compassion, support and concern - because adoptive parents must feel completely comfortable about their decision.

All counseling sessions and adoption records are confidential, and fees are based on ability to pay. Because the agency receives contributions, grants and support from the United Way, fees are substantially less than the actual costs. Most progressive corporations, including Walt Disney Co., IBM, Coca-Cola and Wendy's International provide their employees with time off for adoption. Many health insurance plans cover the adopted child from the time of placement.

Services from the Children's Home Society of Florida may continue through the initial adjustment period until long after the adoption. The agency's goal is to assure that every adoption gives each child a permanent, loving home for life.

Since adoption is the permanent, legal transfer of all parental rights from one person or couple to another person or couple, adoptive parents have the same rights and responsibilities as natural parents.

Adoptive parents are real parents. Most adoptive parents find that taking a child with special needs into their home is a deeply satisfying and rewarding experience.

President, Edward Eisey, will recommend to the Board of Trustees that the Central Technology Center be named for them in a ceremony set for November 15 at 2 p.m. in the Center's courtyard. Even Mother Nature couldn't defeat Glades Day School as the Gators celebrated homecoming despite high winds, threatening rain, and even smoky skies resulting from a fire at Osceola Farms near Pahokee.

A parade of floats, decorated boats, trucks, cars, and the Gator Band marched down Main Street Friday afternoon displaying this year's theme, "Gators at Sea." Congratulations go to the Sophomore and Freshmen classes for winning their respective divisions in the float contest.

GDS also congratulates senior, Karen DeCastro, who was crowned queen during halftime ceremonies of the football game against St. Edward's. Karen, the daughter of Julio and Diana DeCastro, was cho-

President of the Senior Class, Karen is also captain of the varsity cheerleaders, co-editor-in-chief of the '97 yearbook, secretary of the Student Council, and treasurer of the National Honor Society. Congratulations once again, Karen!

To top the week off, the Gators sunk the Pirates 23-3 to end the regular season at 7-3. And, courtesy of King's Academy's victory over Moore Haven, the Gators earned the District 7 2A championship once again. This Friday they will host Miami Westminster. Admission to the playoff game will be $5 for general admission, $6 for reserved seats as set by the Florida High School Activities Association. Sorry, but according to the FHSA, season tickets are not valid for any playoff game.

For those of you involved in the "Penny Wars" the Student Council sponsored last week, Friday's response was overwhelming! The office was jammed as students in grades 7-12 brought in loads of pennies, and at the same time poured silver coins and bills into other classes' jars. For those of you who are wondering, the class who collects the most pennies will win a free Skip Day. The catch is, if another class puts silver or paper money in your jar, you have to deduct that much from your pennies. There are two divisions - Grades 7-9 and 10-12.

Due to the massive amounts of coins, Students Council sponsor Barbara Scruggs says the winners will have to be announced later, hopefully by the end of this week (as soon as they are done counting). The winning classes will get to have a Skip Day at a later date (to be designated by the administration).

REMINDER TO PARENTS: The 1997 Gator yearbooks are on sale through Tuesday, November 26. They are $35 for underclassmen and $37 for seniors. Order yours now-don't be left out in the spring.

Palm Beach County's "Forgotten Hero", George Clem Douglas, killed 75 years ago

A ceremony was held Aug. 27 at the Palm Beach County Sheriff's office to honor the 75th anniversary of Palm Beach County's "Forgotten Hero", George Clem Douglas, who was shot and killed in the line of duty 75 years ago on Aug. 27, 1921.

Due to the length of the article it will be run in a three part series.

THE EVENT

Rookie Palm Beach County Deputy Sheriff George Clem Douglas, 50, was shot and killed on Aug. 27, 1921 as he tried to serve an arrest warrant. The killer escaped and for several weeks a posse searched over a three county area for the killer but he was never found.

The line of duty death of Deputy Douglas was eventually forgotten by county and law enforcement authorities who, until 1966, listed Fred Baker as the first Palm Beach deputy killed in the line of duty (in 1924). However, the killing was described in Ruth Robbins Beardsley's 1973 book, Pioneering in the Everglades.

The murder of Deputy Douglas was "rediscovered" in 1996 by Dr. Wilbanks and brought to the attention of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office. Deputy Douglas was then added to the Palm Beach County Roll Call of Honor of slain officers so that his name will be read each year at the Palm Beach County Police Memorial. His name will also be inscribed on the monument in front of the Sheriff's Office that lists all Palm Beach deputies killed in the line of duty. His name will also be inscribed on the National Law Enforcement Memorial in Washington, D.C. in 1996.

Around 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 27, 1921,

Deputy Douglas attempted to serve an arrest warrant on Sam Wells, 50, "a black male", at his home in Bare Beach on the south coast of Lake Okeechobee at the "lock site at the head of the Miami Canal" immediately south of Ritta Island (near the present day town of Lake Harbor between Clewiston and South Bay).

The Palm Beach Post reported that Wells "had stolen $84 from another man and a warrant had been issued for his arrest and that Wells was part of a crew of laborers working for the Southland Steamship Company" putting in a lock at the head of Miami canal on Lake Okeechobee. "It is surmised that there was a row in the camp and that Deputy Sheriff Douglas was sent there to make an arrest."

When Deputy Douglas and his son, Howard Douglas, 19, approached the house to serve the arrest warrant, the man opened fire with a rifle. Deputy Douglas was shot through the right shoulder, the bullet taking a downward course through the heart from the rifle, which protruded through a shuttered window, killing him almost instantly. Only two shots were fired, the second injuring the deputy's son, Howard. (Palm Beach Post, 8/29/21).

A different (and incorrect) version of the killing was given by the Miami Metropolis. Howard Douglas's later recollections of the incident to his children suggests that this account is erroneous in that Wells was not first arrested in a field and no shotgun was involved. A man in the dredging camp had complained to the sheriff of that county that Sam Wells had robbed him of an amount of money. Deputy Sheriff

Douglas was detailed to make the arrest and as an extra precaution he took with him his son, Howard. They found Wells working in a field and placed him under arrest.

Wells asked permission to go to his house for some wearing apparel, and the officers accompanied him there. According to the story from the scene, Wells entered the house, raised a double-barreled shotgun which was located and, without warning or threat, emptied both loads at his two captors at short range. Wells then fled into the Everglades. (Miami Metropolis, 8/29/21).

However, the Metropolis corrected the above version of the shooting in its Aug. 30 coverage and reported that Douglas and his son approached Wells' house, found the front door locked, and "passed around the house, where the black male opened fire through a window."

The second version (by the Metropolis) of what happened is confirmed by a third account of the incident by Ruth Robbins Beardsley.

Douglas had gone to find a black man named Wells who had cheated another black male out of his paycheck that afternoon playing skin. Wells had left the job and when Douglas went around the side of the house to see Wells, the man shot him through the window. As his father fell, Howard bent over him and was shot in the back. Before help arrived, Douglas was dead and the black male gone. Howard was seriously hurt. Someone headed to West Palm Beach for the sheriff. Jim was in charge of the posse scouring the woods and swamps looking for Wells. Sheriff Baker arrived in his speed boat and took Howard to the hospital where he eventually recovered. After a week of tracking the search for the killer was abandoned. It was decided that he had probably headed for the East Coast immediately after the shooting. Wells was never found. (page 47-49 of Pioneering in the Everglades by Ruth Robbins Beardsley).

A fourth account of the murder came in a letter from Addie Mae Douglas, 15, to her sister in Alabama. The letter, written two days after the murder, noted:

The way it happened was a black man came to the house for Papa to go and arrest a black man who had robbed him so Papa and Howard went down there (the Miami Canal), went up to the house where the black man was. They called for him and he asked what they wanted and Papa said, "never mind what I want, you come here." They were standing by the window and he shot Papa with a high power rifle and Papa fell and Papa told Howard that the negro had killed him and for him to get the gun (from Papa) and kill him (the black man). When Howard stooped over Papa, the black man shot Howard in the back and it came out at his shoulder. (Letter by Addie Mae Douglas, 8/29/21).

Historian Beardsley also described the frantic scene in Bare Beach when the local residents heard of the killing of Deputy Douglas. Bare Beach was playing Moore Haven in their regular Saturday baseball game when a truck came screaming to a halt and the driver yelled, "Where's the doctor? Douglas has been killed and Howard shot by a black man." In what seemed like seconds, Ruth watched trucks, loaded with men and rifles or shot guns, tear off for the Locks. Ever available man was gone. (page 48 of Pioneering in the Everglades.)

Arthur T. Brantley, the captain of the Echo, a boat operating between Bare Beach and Moore Haven, notified the Sheriff's office in West Palm Beach of the killing of the deputy via a telegram from Moore Haven, 25 miles to the west (but the nearest telegraph station). His message gave few details of the killing but included the words, "bring hounds at once" since Wells had fled the scene into the Everglades.

Sheriff Baker immediately notified "the sheriffs of all the adjoining counties" by telephone.

Every black male who goes down Hillsboro or Fort Lauderdale canals into Broward County will be detained; and the sheriff of Glades County, of which Moore Haven is the county seat, has posted sentinels at LaBelle on the Caloosahatchee River and elsewhere. (Palm Beach Post, 8/29/21).

Within a short time, six counties (Palm Beach, Broward, Dade, Okeechobee, Glades, and Lee) had dispatched men to join in the search. It was reported that Wells was traveling barefoot with a rifle and had provisions for five days.

A posse was quickly formed under the leadership of J.E. Beardsley.

"Volunteers answered the call from the adjoining county" for the posse which began the search for the fugitive. The Post reported that Wells was "surrounded" on Saturday night in a "custard apple swamp" but eluded the posse.

When it became apparent that the local posse did not catch Wells within a few hours, Sheriff R.C. "Bob" Baker, accompanied by Deputies Ernest Malphers and Joe Walker and I.S. Campbell, the Justice of the Peace at Ritta Island, traveled to the murder site on a speedboat donated by the "Southland Steamship Company, contractors for the building of the lock at Miami Canal."

The Sheriff stopped at Pahokee to get bloodhounds as his own bloodhounds "had been killed." Unfortunately, the hounds were hampered by a heavy rain that fell after the murder.

While the posse continued its search under J.J. Waldron of Bare Beach, Sheriff Baker returned to West Palm Beach on Aug. 30 with the seriously injured Howard Douglas who was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital. Physicians reported that the young Howard "had been shot through the lungs and that his condition was critical." Addie Mae wrote to her sister two days after the murder that Sheriff Baker "sure is kind" as he promised that the hospital treatment of Howard "would not cost us a cent." She also noted that Howard "sure is suffering" and that "Howard don't know Papa is dead."

Read part two next week in The Sun.

Glades General Hospital raises money for United Way of Palm Beach County

Employees at Glades General Hospital joined together to help raise money for a good cause, The United Way of Palm Beach County.

The United Way, which has fund-raising costs that are among the lowest in the nation, provides children with a safe haven. They provide elderly individuals with care and help keep teenagers in school. They also provide help for AIDS patients and support literacy and dropout prevention programs.

Hospital Food Services Director, Sue Maggio, said over $600 was raised for the United Way through a television give-away and from the proceeds of the special luncheon Nov. 12. Pre-paid Legal Services donated the television, which was won by business office employee Maria Cisneros.

Employees from Publix supermarket also helped with the event.

THE WINNER...of this colored television was Glades General Hospital employee Maria Cisneros.

Think food safety during the Thanksgiving holiday

The holidays are almost here and for those of you who have concerns about food safety, we have some answers. As you are cooking your Thanksgiving turkey next Thursday, remember these food safety tips.

- Set the oven temperature no lower than 325 degrees.
- Place your turkey breast-side up on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.
- For safety and doneness, the internal temperature, as registered on a meat thermometer, must reach a minimum of 180 degrees in the thigh (turkey breast must each reach a minimum of 170 degrees in the thickest part) before removing from oven.

- Check periodically to see if "pop-up" temperature indicator device has activated indicating that the bird has reached final temperature for safety and doneness. Check temperature with an oven-proof or instant-read thermometer.
- Juices should be clear.
- The center of the stuffing, should reach 165 degrees after standing time.
- Let the bird stand 20 minutes before carving.
- For uniform results, it is recommended to cook stuffing outside the bird. If stuffed, stuff loosely.

New timetable for roasting fresh or thawed breast or whole turkey
8-12 pounds	- 2 1/4 to 3 hours
12-14 pounds	- 3 to 3 3/4 hours
14 to 18 pounds	- 3 3/4 to 4 1/2 hours
18-20 pounds	- 4 1/4 to 4 1/2 hours
20-24 pounds	- 4 1/2 to 5 hours

•Cooking times are different if the bird is stuffed. Allow extra time in this case. Times will also be SHORTER if turkey is cooked in an oven cooking bag.

Thank You, FLORIDA!

From the Employee-Owners of U.S. Sugar Corp.

For Saying "No" to Amendment 4, the Billion Dollar Sugar Tax, and "Yes" to Ongoing Everglades Restoration

Thousands of sugar farmers and their families and friends knocked on one million doors in the two weeks before the election to ask you to help them defeat Amendment 4, the billion-dollar sugar tax.

We said Amendment 4 would destroy tens-of-thousands of Florida jobs, as well as stopping the Everglades restoration already under way.

You said "yes" to our plea and "no" to Amendment 4.

Your vote made it possible for Everglades restoration to continue under the two-year-old Everglades Forever Act. The Act requires us to clean up our runoff water 25 percent in ten years. But, after two years, sugar farmers have already cleaned up runoff water 72 percent-- three times what the law requires and eight years ahead of schedule.

We pledge our continuing commitment to Everglades restoration. It is under way and it's working. We have made much progress, but there is much more to be done. We will pay our fair share of the costs -- now and in the future.

We hope that in years to come you will say that defeating Amendment 4 was good for Florida and good for the Everglades. More than with words, our commitment to true Everglades restoration will say, "Thank you, Florida."

Business

Draw Bridge Cafe one of Belle Glades most enjoyed Restaurant

One of the more popular eating establishments in the Glades is the Drawbridge Cafe located at 3300 Torry Island Road, Belle Glade.

The sit-down restaurant offers a wide selection of items on the menu and a popular luncheon buffet that always brings a big crowd.

Owners John and Charlotte White have operated the business for three years. "We have seen a big increase in the number of customers the past couple of years," says Charlotte. "I believe the word has gotten around that we have a wonderful luncheon buffet at very reasonable prices."

Speed is also a factor for those diners who only have an hour for lunch, and the help-yourself buffet allows customers to quickly go through the line. They can enjoy a well-stocked salad bar with many delicious side dishes, a buffet which features fresh vegetables and several choices of meat and dessert. "The Drawbridge Cafe gives the community a nice place to go for lunch or dinner," says John. Several Employees help John and Charlotte at the restaurant. They include Riley Lewis, Theresa Williams, Cookie Babs, and Shawna Whitney. The Cafe also has two meeting rooms for club meetings or larger functions. Call Charlotte at 561 992-9370 to book special events or parties.

Pahokee Subway one of the largest world-wide

Owners are Thomas and Derrick Burrus, father and son.

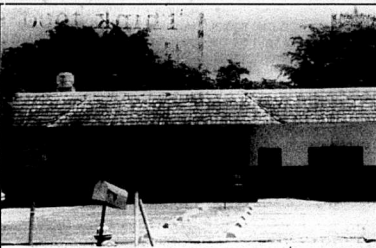

The Founder of Subway was Fred Deluca on August 28, 1965. There are now over 11,000 Subways world-wide and Pahokee has the largest one anywhere.

Ironically, Derrick's birthday is August 28, 1972. Ever since I can remember, my dad wanted to own a restaurant. Having the opportunity to return to my hometown and open a business among friends and family has fulfilled a dream for both of us.

Without vegetables, we wouldn't have very much to offer. Every sub or salad we serve, directly contributes to the Glades economy. Our goal is to deliver the best of Pahokee both in product and service. We want to exceed our customers' expectations with great Southern service that is our tradition here in the Glades. Customers are our reason for business and we are grateful for all of you. May God bless Pahokee.

Gilbert's Jewlers & Gifts ranked in top ten percent privately-owned jewelry stores in country

The Alvarez family has come a long way from the days when they sold jewelry door-to-door in the Latin community in Belle Glade.

Today, Robert and Gilberto Alvarez co-own Gilbert's Jewellers & Gifts, Inc., one of the top 10% privately-owned money grossing jewelry stores in the country.

Gilberto says his father, Higinio Alvarez, began the business in 1967.

He owned his shop beside Thiebaut Insurance on Avenue E, Belle Glade but he soon outgrew that location and he moved to a larger location on Avenue A in 1967.

Sons Gilberto and Robert gradually took over their father's business and they moved to their present location at 200 S.W. First Street, Belle Glade, in November of 1985.

Both men put in long hours to make sure their customers are satisfied. The store is open six days a week and during the holiday season they extend their hours to accommodate their local customers.

"We feel we have a wonderful shop with so much to offer our customers. We pride ourselves on our personal service and our fast repair service," said Robert. "Belle Glade has been good to us and in return, we try to be good to its citizens," he added.

Both Robert and Gilberto

are graduates of Florida Atlantic University.

Gilberto says they are able to keep their prices low and inventory high because they have a controlling interest in a Miami-based jewelry manufacturer. This allows them access to watchmakers, designers and a stone setter. They also have a high demand for specialty jewelry, made to order.

"We have a large made-to-order business because we can design a piece of jewelry from scratch," says Gilberto.

"All we need is an idea or a picture to custom design any item. We invite new customers to come and see what we have to offer. And, for some of our customers who haven't been in a while, we welcome them to come and see the new things we have to offer," said Robert.

Stop by and see the Alvarez brothers at 200 S.W. First Street, Belle Glade, Florida or give them a call at (561) 996-3000.

Gators, Raiders and Blue Devils all three advance to play-off's

Glades Central Retains "Bragging Rights" - Titusville-Astronaut's Up Next at Raider Field

By Stephanie Schneider
Glades Central will keep the Muck Bowl trophy in their trophy case for another year after last Friday night's filled-to-capacity game against Pahokee.

The key to Glades Central's 24-7 victory over Pahokee's Blue Devils was GC's defense. Their top priority was keeping Pahokee out of the end zone and that they did.

The Raiders' offense isn't to be overlooked though, Andre Bryant gained 54 yards on eight carries and scored a TD while Arthur Brown picked up 62 yards on 15 carries on top of scoring the first TD of the game. QB Brad Banks also had a 2 yard TD for Belle Glade. Nakia Campbell sealed the Raider victory with a three yard TD with 1:08 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Glades Day Emerges Victorious and Ready for Play offs

By Eddie Campbell
Last Friday, The Glades Day Gators finished off their regular season with a convincing win over the St. Edwards Pirates 23-3. This win ended the two game losing streak the Gators were on.

St. Edward's only score of the game came with 4:28 left in the first quarter on a 23 yard field goal. From then on, it was all Gators.

TB Lee Sweet gained all 72 yards of the Gators' first offensive drive capping it off with a three yard touchdown putting the Gators up 7-3.

Julian Rodriguez increased the Gator lead with a 23 yard field goal in the second quarter. The Gators scored again in the second quarter when QB, Zach Threlkeld connected with Heath Norman on a 46 yard TD pass to put the Gators up 17-3 going into halftime.

The third quarter was a grudge match between the two teams with neither team scoring.

An Alex Molares interception setup Sweet's second touchdown of the game, this one covered 57 yards of grass.

Sweet was the story of the game. He gained 202 yards on 22 carries and scored two touchdowns.

Pahokee to host first round of Play-off's after loss to Raiders

By Robbie Everett

Last Friday, on a windy night, Pahokee lost its bid for the Muck Bowl trophy but proved to be a dominant factor as sophomore QB, Anquan Bulkin passed for 129 yards and rushed for 55 yards. The team totalled 236 yards. The Blue Devils were not able to capitalize on several drives that ended short of their down. Three attempts failed in the first half including a first and goal when time ran out in the first half.

The Blue Devils' defense was able to limit Andre Bryant, GC's leading rusher, to 54 yards on eight carries. Most that yardage was one long run. The defense also held Glades Central offense to 34 yards rushing.

The Raiders were able to capitalize on three short kicks (averaging 20 yards) against the wind, that gave them excellent field position. This proved to be the difference in the game.

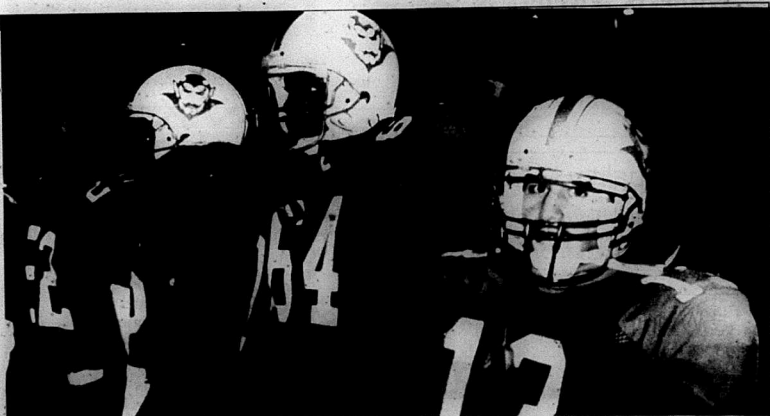

Pahokee is set to meet the winner of a three way tie played Monday night in Miami involving Tavernier-Coral Shores, Marathon, and Miami-Archbishop. They will be playing without standout defensive player, Henry Ware, who sustained an ankle injury and Jannard Jackson who sustained a broken wrist.

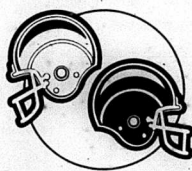

Glades Central's Principal, Dr. Effie Gear, and the Raider football team brought the Muck Bowl trophy back to Belle Glade one more time. Congratulations Guys!

Homecoming Queen Karen DeCastro is all smiles as she is surrounded by her court

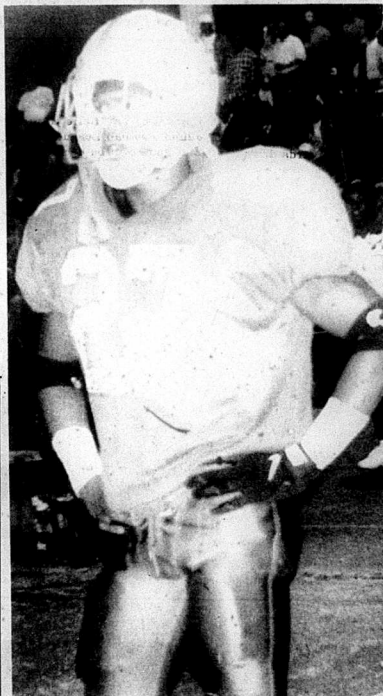

These Pahokee Blue Devils watch and hope for the best in the Muck Bowl.

Beno with J.E. Wilson will be hard to beat

He's been out ahead in the standing for a long time and his lead keeps stretching. Jimmy Beno with J.E. Wilson has a 4-point lead over the next closest contender, Gary Melven of Steve Moore.

Gary says it's time to "go for broke." He says, "Now I'm going to start putting the heat on Jimmy."

To do that, he says he'll start trying to pick opposite of Beno in some of the games in hopes of pulling an upset.

Mike Burkett with Lake Hardware agrees with Gary that's the only strategy that will work this late in the game. "I'm afraid Jimmy's got it. Four games is hard to catch. He'd have to really mess up now to not win. Everybody'll have to pick opposite of Jimmy and hope for upsets," he said.

Burkett and John Zimmerman with Renter's Choice are tied for third place and Hattie Bennett with Barnett Bank is only one behind them with 59 correct picks.

Eagles Crowned Champions of the Belle Glade Junior Football League

"A Long Time Coming" the words from numerous Eagle Players Tuesday night as they were Crowned Champions of the Belle Glade Junior Football League.

The Eagles defeated the Jets 30-12 in a Championship play-off game at Pioneer Park.

The Jets defeated the Eagles in late October to give each team identical records at 5-1, forcing a play-off game.

The game started with the Jets taking the opening kick-off. They drove the length of the field and scored on a touchdown pass from Jets Quarterback Robert Hart, Jr. to Janorris "Pooh" Federicks for a 6-0 lead, extra point was no good. Not to be outdone, the Eagles kept their heads up. Led by the strong running game of the Eagles, RB Deshawaitaa "Jap" Williams went on to score two unanswered touchdowns on runs of 30 and 45 yards, respectively for a 12-6 lead. The score was tied at halftime.

The Jets started the third quarter with an inside kick which the Eagles recovered at the Jets' 48 yard line. The Jets' Defense held on to stop the Eagles drive. The game was close until late in the third quarter when "Jap Williams" broke through the right side of the Eagles line for a 45 yard touchdown run.

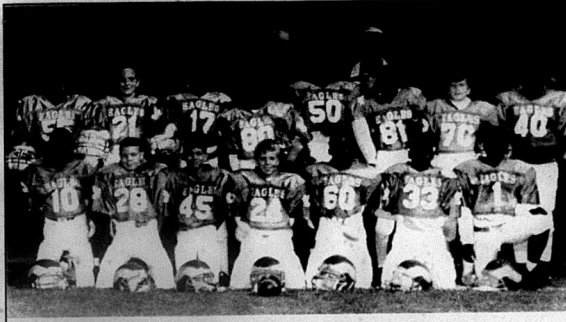

The Eagles led 18-6 at the end of the third quarter.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Jets QB Robert Hart, Jr. completed a long pass to Jets WR "Pooh" Federicks to the Eagles' 7 yard line, when out leaped Eagles QB/S Omar West and ran in for the score, his second TD of the game, the Jets had the lead within one touchdown of the Eagles 18-12.

After another failed inside kick by the Jets, the Eagles again had good field position

The Jets take the field to face the Eagles in the game for the Championship. They are hyped and ready to go as the enter the field.

The Eagles listed not in order: #28 Clay Anerson, #60 John Benson, #81 Rodney Booth, #21 Dale Britt, #24 Gary Brooks, #33 Lamarius Burden, #55 Rashied Byrd, #40 Hosea Burns, Jr., #70 Randy Gay, #45 Jose Navarro, #33 Joshua Perez, #1 Fred Robinson, #50 Cergil Sincere, #35 Chris Tillis, #17 Omar West, #10 Jap Williams. Coaches: Coach Preacher, Head Coach, Coach Fred, Assistant Coach, Coach Reggie, Defensive Coach, Coach Tommy, Asst. Defensive Coach.

at the Jets 45 yard line. The Defense of the Jet's, tough at times, stuffed the Eagles on 1st and 2nd downs. Not to be denied "Jap Williams" ran off left tackle, broke three would be tackles by the Jets and galloped 38 yards to the end zone for his fourth touchdown of the game, making the score 24-12, Eagles.

The jets tried desperately to come back behind the strong running offensive RB for the Jets, Chris Joseph but the drive was cut short on an interception by Eagles QS/S, Omar West, at the Eagles 35 yard line.

Third down and long for the Eagles, RB "Lil" Fred Robinson, Jr., the Eagles leading rusher/scorer, took the hand off right, reversed his direction behind the line of scrimmage, and got out side, broke a tackle and sprinted 60 yards down the left sideline for the score.

The score stood 30-12

when late in the fourth quarter, out of desperation, the Jet quarterback, R. Hart, Jr. threw another long pass which was again intercepted by quarterback, Omar West to seal the Eagles victory. The Jets finished the season 5-2 and the Eagles 6-1. The Bears finished 2-4 and the Colts 0-6. The Belle Glade Junior Football League All-Star game will be held Tuesday, November 19, 1996, at Pioneer Park.

Okeechobee Center Raiders Beat West Palm Beach ICAN

The West Palm Beach ICAN scored first when their running back went in from ten yards out. The two point conversion was stopped by the Raiders defense.

The Raiders scored when running back, Issac Hornsby, went in from three yards out.

Issac also ran in for the two point conversion, putting the Raiders ahead 8-6.

The Raiders next score came when Issac Hornsby went in from one yard out after a forty eight yard drive. Danny Ray ran in for the two point conversion.

The Okeechobee Raiders came away with a 16-6 victory over the West Palm Beach ICAN.

The coaches would like to give credit to Jesse Perez, Arzavious Given, Jandis Frederick, Alfonso Amical, Issac Hornsby, Danny Ray, and Samuel Tarver as well as the rest of the team for an incredible game and a job well done. The Okeechobee Raiders travel to Riviera Beach Saturday, November 23, 1996 to play in the Turkey Bowl.

Homecoming parade at Glades Day School

THE GATORS MADE THE PIRATES "WALK THE PLANK"...during Friday night's home game. The Gators beat the Pirates 23-3.

THIS SPOUTING WHALE was just one of many floats in Glades Day School's Homecoming Parade Friday afternoon.

FLAG FLIPPING IN THE WIND...Friday afternoon it was so windy the flag corps at Glades Day moved down the street to a stiff wind in their faces.

MISS SOPHOMORE BROOKE PRESCOTT, rode in this "Sink the Pirates" float.

THE USS GATOR SWALLOWED THE PIRATES...Shown are Mr. and Miss Jr. GDS Nicole Alvarez and Alex Molares.

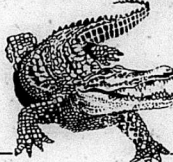

TWO OF THE MEMBERS OF THE 1996 HOMECOMING COURT...Jessica Alvarez, far side, and Miriam Barhoush.

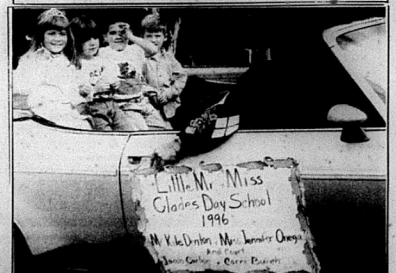

1996'S HOMECOMING QUEEN, JOI SALVATORE rides in the GDS Homecoming Parade.

GDS SECOND GRADERS were in the spirit and waving to the crowd.

RELAXED AND READY...The GDS Gator football team takes a ride through town during the parade. They were rested and eager to tromp the Pirates that night.

ALL SMILES...LITTLE Mr. and Miss Glades Day School 1996, Kyle Denton and Jennifer Onega are shown with their court which included Corri Burch and Jacob Carter.

WAVING AT THE CROWD...Smaller Glades Day students rode in the back of this bass boat in the parade.
